Hi everyone!

Lately, Psalm 46:10 has been going through my mind a lot. For those who are unfamiliar, it says “be still and know that I am God”.

How hard it is to be still, especially when life is so uncertain, upside down, and unexpected. On a daily basis, there can be so many things that catch us off guard, and can throw us into a panic.

This is a lesson I continually need to be reminded of for myself. There are many times where I get thrown a curve ball, and my first response is to get stressed, to want to react, and to allow the panic to drive me. But what I have learned and continue to learn is that nothing I face takes God by surprise. Nothing I face is too big for Him. As long as I am running around in a panic, I miss out on finding rest in His protection.

But it is when I stop all the chaos and silence the stress that I can experience the calming peace, assurance, security, and comfort that is our God. It is when I am still that I can experience that He is God.

—Pastor Dave
